Do You Remember Sept. 16th, 1928? 1500 Were Drowned

On Sunday, September 16, 1928, the most devastating hurricane over to visit Florida whipped the Lake Okechobee Region for many hours—lasting well into Monday, September 17. Old files of The Everglades News were searched this week to gather a few appalling facts for this story. First report of 800 dead was nearly doubled a few days later when final check was made in the Lake Harbor area on the south side of the lake and it was found that around 1500 were drowned in the storm.

The few paragraphs below don't tell the graphic story as it was presented in the columns of this newspaper for weeks after the hurricane. However, a few excerpts of hair-raising stories are reprinted herewith:

Not less than 800 persons lost their lives as the result of the tropical hurricane which last Sunday swept over this area, inflicting damages as yet untold. This is according to revised estimates of the death toll, announced last night by Howard W. Selby, general Red Cross chairman.

Already 537 bodies have been buried at various points, figures compiled by Adjutant General Collins of the state troops revealed.

From the Palm Beach Times: While no large scale finances for rebuilding this shattered city were in sight today, development in a number of different sources strengthened hope that West Palm Beach might soon rise above its catastrophe.

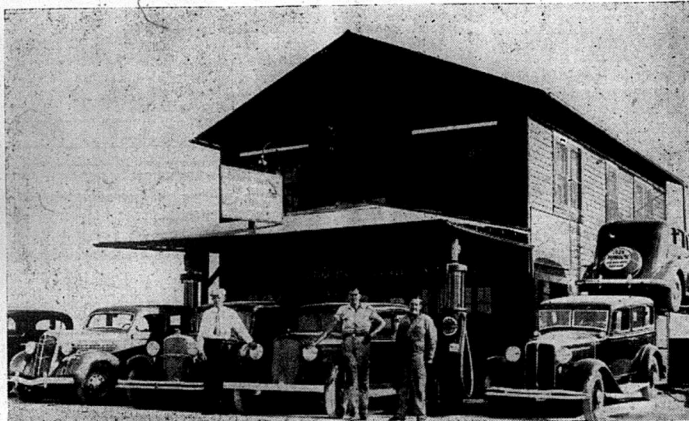

Number of dead made larger by high lake level, wind was factor only as it operated to pile water up at south end of lake, total dead is 1400-1600; only 200 white persons, survey of storm from Canal Point to Clewiston in 30-mile strip.

Damage to contents was equal to the money losses caused by damage to store buildings and dwelling houses in the storm of Sept. 16-17 in the upper Everglades for a heavy rain accompanied the wind and continued after the wind had died down, and the rain and the flooded waters reached every opening the wind had made.

Pumps will be used to dry the site of the Southern Sugar Company's labor quarters at the Canal Point mill and construction of the buildings, more than 100 in number, will be resumed and the contracts with Chalkey-Lund Company carried out, company officials have announced.

Washington, Oct. 10, 1928.—The Red Cross minimum $5,000,000 fund asked for relief of hurricane sufferers in the West Indies and Florida was filled today, acting Red Cross Chairman James L. Frierer reported to President Coolidge.

IT WAS NEW CAR TIME IN PAHOKEE IN 1934

The fall of 1962 brings again new car models and that fact prompted Cleve Cruthird of Pahokee to bring out an old picture taken 28 years ago when new 1935 Model Plymouths were being shown in Pahokee. Cleve's brother, the late J. W. Cruthird, was Pahokee dealer and he is shown in the above picture dressed up with tie and cap. Cleve is shown in the middle with that handsome head of hair that today is showing tinges of grey. The other chap was the mechanic but Cleve has forgotten his name. The building? Oh, yes, it is on the Belle Glade road near the power plant in Pahokee and is being used today by Mayor Duncan Padgett as a service station.

Canal Point Parents To Raise Cash For Air Conditioning

Parents in Canal Point School are in the midst of a fund raising campaign and the cash will be used to purchase air conditioning units for the local school. Parents are of the opinion, backed up by air conditioning experts, that a total of eight units will be needed to do the job. That is their goal.

The first effort to raise funds will be made Saturday when a bake sale is held in front of Echols Grocery store in Canal Point. It was pointed out that like sales will be held for several weeks until the necessary amount is realized. Other projects will be undertaken by the parents to augment the bake sale plan for raising money.

If you'd like to make a straight out donation you can mail your check to Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Blackwell or Mr. and Mrs. James Gibson in Canal Point. Mrs. L. L. Maxson is chairman in charge of a Christmas card sales plan that parents hope will bring in extra cash.

Mack Parker Visits Glades After Years

Mack Parker arrived in Canal Point, last week, and is spending a two weeks vacation with his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Parker and family. Mack, a former resident, is home for the first time in ten years. He has been in the Marshall Islands for three years where he is associated with an oil company, and he previously resided in Alaska.

Pahokee's Opener Favors Local Team By The Score 28-0

Defending champion Seacrest, favored Forest Hill and upstart Stuart have gotten the jump in the Suncoast Conference's 13th football campaign as the season opened with seven games for the loop's 11 members last Friday night.

Seacrest and Forest Hill made their successful debut in shutout fashion before home crowds, but both face tough tests of their mettle on the features of a six-game card for this week. Three conference games are scheduled Friday. Seacrest will invade Ft. Pierce for the Eagles' home opener. Forest Hill journeys to Belle Glade where the Rams ran up one of the highest scores in league history in a non-league romp last week, and Pahokee visits Riviera Beach.

The week's action starts Thursday when pennant-minded Lake Worth calls on Palm Beach High. This will be Palm Beach's first of six Suncoast foes this fall, with these games considered non-league because new Suncoast member Palm Beach won't be playing all other league members.

Two other non-conference contests Friday send Vero to Tampa Chamberlain and have Clewiston entertaining Okechobee.

Seacrest had an unexpectedly easy time in disposing of guest (Continued on page 8)

A former Minnesota resident, now making his home in Florida, returned to Tallahassee recently after an extended visit to the Northwest. He reports many changes are visible in the cities and towns of the states he visited in the short space of five years since he last travelled through that part of the country.

"It does a person a lot of good to get away now and then and see other states," he reports. "This is a big country we live in. If we don't see other parts of it periodically we're apt to lose the perspective we should have in evaluating the good points—and the shortcomings, too—of our own state."

"We talk about mountains in some of our southern states. But until you see the Rockies and other western ranges, you don't appreciate what mountains can be. Travelling through them, you wonder how in the world anyone ever had the courage to tackle them and find the passes that make it possible to continue on to the Pacific."

"When you're over the 'Great Divide' and coasting down the western slope, you marvel at the fortitude of the pioneers who endured months of hardship and dangers to creep by wagon train over such rugged territory."

"Air travel is splendid if you're in a hurry. But if you want to see the country and get the feel of it—its vastness, the endless sweep of western prairies and plains, a glimpse of sterile badlands and the grandeur of snow-capped mountain peaks—you must travel by highway or rail through the Northwest."

The Florida traveller reports Minnesota still has no state meat inspection. Because it is an important dairy state, Minnesota's controls over milk products are comprehensive. Unlike Florida, however, it has neglected to establish its own meat inspection to protect its consumers of meats produced outside of Federal inspection.

Minnesota's legislative research committee reported recently one-fifth of the meat consumed in the state is not inspected for wholesomeness. While admitting the need for a state meat inspection law, the committee is not recommending, are done a v-a-c-g mending it to the next legislature. The reason: it would cost about $500,000 a year to maintain and the committee members are just as budget conscious as legislators of many other states.

I feel that we are fortunate to have in Florida the protection of an efficient State Meat Inspection service. It is rated one of the best in the nation. The money spent to maintain it is well worthwhile because it provides vital protection for our consumers and an important service to our Florida meat and livestock industries.

Incidentally, the Florida traveller noted the price of milk to consumers in Minnesota's Twin Cities has been boosted a cent a quart. The reason: an intensive drive to combat a recent rise in the level of iodine-131, by-product of nuclear fallout, in fluid milk. Dairy farmers are being urged to feed their cows only on "aged feed" instead of on fresh pasture. They're being paid a higher price (such feed costs more) in order to assure a safe supply of fluid milk. Radiation testing of milk in Minnesota is being stepped up.

Florida growers are not the only ones facing labor shortages at harvest time. While he was in Seattle, our Florida traveller noted news reports of daily pleas for pickers to harvest truck and berry crops. On one day when 1,800 pickers were needed only a few hundred showed up. It's easy to see why there's so much pressure for more and more mechanical harvesting devices.

In contrast, wheat harvesting was underway in Montana, North Dakota and Washington when our traveller passed through. Squads of combines were stripping the fields with the efficiency born of long experience in harvesting grains from Texas to Saskatchewan. Now and then a caravan of harvesters was to be seen on the highways — the combines on trucks with trailers, followed by buses with the crews, mess trucks and even mobile machine shops to handle repairs.

Grain harvesting on America's western plains is probably one of the best organized and efficient mechanical harvesting operations in the world.

"Today we need a nation of Minute Men . . . citizens who regard the preservation of freedom as a basic purpose of their daily life"

—JOHN FITZGERALD KENNEDY

10 days after his inauguration
as the 35th President of the United States.

Twenty years ago, in the dark, uneasy days before Pearl Harbor, the Minute Man of Concord, timeless symbol of our Nation's determination to defend its freedom, emerged as the emblem of the U. S. Savings Bonds Program. When war came, the Minute Man became the rallying force behind the huge and overwhelmingly successful effort to back our fighting men with War Bonds.

In this, the 20th anniversary year of Savings Bonds, the Minute Man of Concord calls all Americans to an unremitting effort to help preserve our peace and freedom, threatened by forces more powerful and resourceful than those we faced in 1941. Though this effort will take many forms, one way open to all is the continued investment in Shares in America, U. S. Savings Bonds, by "citizens who regard the preservation of freedom as a basic purpose of their daily life."

Tom Adams Talks To State Officials About Water Needs

Florida Secretary of State Tom Adams Monday urged state county officials to look to California's mistakes in planning for this state's water conservation.

He spoke to the more than 400 delegates attending the 33rd annual convention of the State Association of County Commissioners at the Deauville Hotel.

"California failed to take adequate measures to insure availability of sufficient water to sustain its population, agriculture and industry. Then one day the people awoke and were startled to find that there was insufficient fresh water to meet their minimum needs," he said.

"As a result," he continued, "California is today embarked on a $12 billion program to obtain the water she so desperately must have. California thus is spending as much money on water today as Florida has spent for all the costs of state government since being admitted to the Union in 1845."

He said that Florida stands today where California stood some 20 years ago and the time is past due for intelligent, long-range planning for water use.

"The wave of apathy and neglect of natural resources which has spread throughout the country has caused many industries to abandon their former locations and move into Florida," he continued. "Unless we ourselves eliminate apathy and quickly develop a positive program of resource planning, these industries may well leave Florida just as they have left other states."

He called for water storage reservoirs to be developed in the upper St. Johns and the Green Swamp areas and the development of the river basins of north and western Florida, namely the St. Marys, Suwannee, St. Marks, Ochlocknee, Apalachicola, Choctawhatchee, Yellow, Escambia and Perdido Rivers.

In other sessions, Wilson Carraway, president-designate of the Florida Senate, urged the support of the commissioners on the Nov. 6th reappointment election and Wendell Jarrard, director of the Florida Development Commission, challenged commissioners to make more use of his commission's industrial and tourism development, surplus and other divisions.

The delegates were welcomed to the Greater Miami area by Alexander S. Gordon, chairman of the Dade County Commission.

U. S. Senator Spessard Holland will be the feature speaker on Tuesday. In addition, a debate on Medicare between Dr. Edward R. Annis, president-elect of the American Medical Association and James M. Quigley, U. S. Assistant Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, will be held. The group also will elect and install new officers. The annual meeting concludes Wednesday.

Bob Martin of Cold Springs, Ky. and Bill Crawford of Cincinnati, Ohio, both students from the University of Cincinnati, returned to their studies, Saturday, after vacationing for two weeks with Mr. and Mrs. Billy M. Sheffield and their daughter, Miss Olga Sheffield.

New $3\frac{3}{4}\%$ interest on U.S. Savings Bonds

The Treasury explains why the new ones you buy and the ones you own now are better than ever

Q: How does the new $3\frac{3}{4}\%$ interest rate benefit me?

A: With Series E Bonds, the rate turns $18.75 into $25.00 fourteen months faster than the old rate. Your savings increase faster, because your Bonds mature in just 7 years, 9 months.

With Series H Bonds, the 10-year maturity period stays the same but more interest is paid you each six months. With both E and H Bonds the new rate works out to $2\frac{1}{4}\%$ for the first year and a half; then a guaranteed 4% each year to maturity.

Q: When did the new rate become effective?

A: June 1, 1959.

Q: Does the new rate change the Bonds I bought before June 1, 1959?

A: All older E and H Bonds pay more now—an extra $\frac{1}{2}\%$ from now on, when held to maturity. The increase takes effect in the first full interest period after June 1.

Q: Will the Bonds I own automatically earn their new rate?

A: Yes. You don't need to do a thing—just hold on to your Bonds.

Q: When my E Bonds mature, will they keep on earning interest?

A: Yes. An automatic 10-year extension privilege went into effect along with the new interest rate. This means your E Bonds will automatically keep earning interest after maturity.

Q: With the new interest rate, should I cash in my old Bonds and buy new ones?

A: No. The automatic $\frac{1}{2}\%$ increase makes it unnecessary—and in almost every case it is to your advantage to retain your present Bonds.

Q: How are series H Bonds different from series E Bonds?

A: The chief difference is this: You buy E Bonds at full face value and the interest is paid by Treasury check every six months for the life of the Bond. You buy E Bonds at 75% of face value and the interest accumulates to maturity. H Bonds provide income for living expenses, while E Bonds build a nest egg for the future. That's why many retired people hold H Bonds and families saving for, say, a child's education, buy E Bonds.

Q: In what denominations can I buy series E and series H Bonds?

A: E Bonds: $25 (cost $18.75), $50 (cost $37.50), $100 (cost $75.00), $200 (cost $150.00), $500 (cost $375.00), $1,000 (cost $750.00), $10,000 (cost $7,500.00).

H Bonds: $500, $1,000, $5,000 and $10,000. They are priced at face value.

Q: How safe are U.S. Savings Bonds?

What changing one's standpoint can mean in meeting today's challenges will be brought out at Christian Science church services Sunday.

"Love not the world, neither the things that are in the world" is the Golden Text from the Bible (1 John 2). It keynotes a Lesson-Sermon on the subject of "Matter."

One of the selections to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy states: "When understanding changes the standpoints of life and intelligence from a material to a spiritual basis, we shall gain the reality of Life, the control of Soul over sense, and we shall perceive Christianity, or Truth, in its divine Principle" (p. 322).

Visitors Studying Physical Laws

TALLAHASSEE—The ghostly world beyond the microscope, where physical laws and mathematical formulas are increasingly depended upon to explain the growth, behavior and even origin of living things, has brought Florida some of its most distinguished visitors during the past year.

Faculty members and graduate students in Florida State University's molecular biophysics program would have had to visit two dozen laboratories in half a dozen countries for the insights provided in lectures by as many scientists.

As visiting professors the guest speakers held seminars on subjects ranging from inorganic chemistry to photobiology through the last academic year, according to a report to the Atomic Energy Commission on the second year of FSU's Institute of Molecular Biophysics which is supported by a five-year grant of $3 million from the AEC.

Dr. Michael Kasha, director of the institute, is a physical chemist whose principal research contributions have been in spectroscopy—the study of molecular structure and forces by a careful measurement of light emissions in excited states of matter.

The acting associate director, Dr. Hans Gaffron, has contributed for more than 30 years, most of the time at University of Chicago, to a growing body of knowledge about photosynthesis, the process by which plants use solar radiation in the manufacture of food.

The institute combines primarily an interdisciplinary approach by chemists, on the one side, and biologists on the other, to a study of molecular structure of living things. Also participating in the program are psychologists, physicists, statisticians and mathematicians.

BILL'S TEAM A WINNER

Bill Maxson, graduate of Pahokee high school and former member of the Blue Devil squad, is attending Emory and Henry College in Virginia. His team won its first game from a larger school on Saturday by a score of six to three. Bill was in the midst of the fracas.

Pahokee's Opener—

Clewiston 46-0 as halfback Dan Gibson scored four touchdowns last week, while Forest Hill punched over two scores in the first quarter and dropped Ft. Pierce 13-0. So whatever the results, the odds on Seacrest's defending its crown should be considerably more settled after its trip this week.

Favored Riviera Beach lost seven fumbles and couldn't stop passes as Stuart recorded an 18-6 triumph in these teams' opener Friday. Rusty Bond passed for all three Tiger touchdowns, two to Ken Foote.

The conference broke even in four non-league jousts Friday. Belle Glade smothered Cardinal Gibbons of Ft. Lauderdale 66-0 and Pahokee laced Naples 28-0. But Vero fell at Key West 44-20 and Palm Beach was whipped 25-0 by Stanahan in Ft. Lauderdale.

Tough new '63 Chevrolet Trucks are here!

...THE ONES THAT WHIPPED THE BAJA RUN...TOUGHEST UNDER THE SUN...
TO SHOW THE WORTH OF NEW ENGINES, FRAMES AND SUSPENSIONS!

Sometimes the caravan crept along for hours in low gear. It took 17 days to go 1,066 miles! This is the road near Loreto.

Round trip from Detroit to the end of the Baja Peninsula is over 8,000 miles.

Millions of years ago nature fashioned a proving ground for trucks that man can never duplicate. Today it is known as the Baja (bah' hah) California Peninsula, Mexico.

These pictures give you only a bare idea of the place. The road is fine for 140 miles below the U.S. border. Then the beating begins. Rocks and hard-baked ruts bang, jab and jerk the trucks from stem to stern. Loose sand makes them struggle and strain. Dust chokes them. Heat roasts them. Rivers drench them.

The Baja Run took this Chevrolet truck caravan 17 days to go the 1,066 miles.

All the trucks performed magnificently. Not one was forced to drop out because of mechanical difficulty.

Trucks that can take this kind of beating can take on your toughest truck jobs. Come in now and see tough quality-built '63 Chevrolet trucks with all their new improvements.
